Alma Mater

Thine to mold us Alma Mater
In the beauty of thy grace,
Thou the mistress of our service
To our race.
Thou hast sown thy golden seedlings
On our rude uncultured soil:
Let the morn of our awaking
Be blest with toil.

From the clustered rhododendron
Doth thy living fountain flow,
Till our fields are full of blossoms
And the glow
Of the sunrise o'er thy mountains
Paints the world a jeweled plain,
Where thy grateful sons and daughters
Hold domain.

When our grain is ripe to harvest,
And the cooling dews descend
On thy weary happy reapers
At the end—
We salute thee, Alma Mater;
At thine altar may we sing,
And our efforts through the years
Thy tribute bring.

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
OF MARS HILL COLLEGE

Theme Explanation

Luther Rice dedicated his life, his strength, and his financial possessians to the cause of Christ and the promotion of His ideals through education. He was a man who lived the principles that are dreamed of at Mars Hill. Therefore, on this the hundredth anniversary of his death we the annual staff, in order to pay humble homage to the man who counted everything but loss for the cause of Christian education, have adopted his life as the theme of this book and have tried to incorporate in it visions of his ambitions and achievements.

Dedication

Because of his noble Christian character, his pleasing and cordial personality,
his patient effort in helping,
instructing, and inspiring,
we very affectionately dedicate this the 1937 Laurel to

RALPH MARION LEE

teacher, leader,
and friend.

IN MEMORY OF

LOWELL GRIFFIN

Lowell Griffin passed away very early in his stay with us, but because of his pure character and noble life, we wish to perpetuate his memary. His life wos rich in activities, yet filled with a love for Gad and his fellawman. Althaugh he is naw separated from us, his personality and influence will always remain a cherished memory and a challenging inspiration. We shall never farget his priceless humility and perpetual smile and we knaw that the warld has been blessed by his presence.

In his early life Luther Rice was in continual strife over religious matters. Against the will of his father, a strict Congregationalist, he set up a family altar in his home. It was here that he said "O God, I will go where Thou wouldst have me go; I will do, strengthened by Thy Grace, whatsoever Thou wouldst have me do, I will follow wheresoever Thou leadest me."

Administration

DR. ROBERT LEE MOORE, President

The PRESIDENT

FOR steady growth during forty years, for friends who have been willing to invest money here, for trustees and teachers who hove been layal ond sacrificial in spirit, for students who have gone out to put first His kingdam, and for the gracious leading of Gad I am deeply grateful.

While studying the Greek New Testament in Calcutta, India, where he was sent as a Congregationalist Missionary, Luther Rice came to accept the Baptist doctrines. After being baptised in October, 1812, he returned to America to awaken missionary interest among Baptists and to secure financial support for Mr. and Mrs. Adoniram Judson whom he left in India.

Luther Rice had a poor horse and a poor gig with which he traveled an average of 7000 miles a year in weariness and loneliness. Thus he performed his benevolent journeys, often speaking two or three times a day in the interest of Baptist and Christian Education. Worn and sick from this strenuous work, he did not spare himself even when a stroke of paralysis left him crippled. As a person of devoted religious character, no man went before him.

TENNIS

This year's edition of the Mars Hill tennis team is showing promise of being one of the best in Mars Hill tennis history. The Lion racqueteers to date have engaged in three matches in which they scored victories over Asheville School, Christ School, and Brevard College. The Lions lost only four decisions in capturing these matches.

With Captain Warrick leading the netters, and being ably assisted by Hagan, Ellen, Stephenson, and Carter, the Lions have their eyes on the Southeastern Junior College Tournament.

TRACK

With the first well organized track team in years, the Mars Hill cindermen are making a name for themselves among junior and senior college competition. Under the efficient tuteloge of Coach Fred "Little Hoot" Dickerson, the Mars Hill lads have rounded into shape quickly and to date have broken even in two meets.

Brilliant individual performances by Waldo "Step" Costello have been the feature of Mars Hill this year. The Lions, however, possess a well-balanced outfit which should make an enviable record this year.

Luther Rice died thinking that his dream of "a hundred thousand Baptists, united into a denomination, militant and missionary" was not to be realized. His organization of American Baptists into the Triennial Convention has, however, expanded into the Southern Baptist Convention, the Northern Baptist Convention, and the Baptist World Alliance.

From the life of Luther Rice shines the light of Christian Education. He not only established Columbian College, but created an enthusiasm for Christian Education which resulted in the establishment of many other Baptist Colleges. Among them are George Washington University, Wake Forest College, Mercer University, Denison University, Georgetown College, Baylor University, and the Theological Seminaries.

Luther Rice established a denominational weekly—THE COLUMBIAN STAR, and a missionary magazine—THE LATTER DAY LUMINARY. These publications were the beginning of the American Baptist Publication Society and the Sunday School Board. After raising money for the founding of Columbian College, he donated to the Triennial Convention his valuable property in Washington, D. C., together with a printing plant that he bought with his own money.
